Experience Rome

Home to the Colosseum, Pantheon and Vatican City, this Italian capital grants visitors stunning views into the great legacy that is Rome.

A good starting point when exploring Rome would be Vatican City, the sovereign state ruled by the Pope. Located within its borders are St. Peter's Basilica, Square and the Vatican Museum. The museum is mainly known for its Sistine Chapel, although other notable artworks by Raphael, Caravaggio and others can also be found there.

To delve further back into Rome's past, a visit to the Pantheon and the Colosseum are a must. These remnants of the Roman Empire have inspired both European and American architects for centuries. Countless libraries and city halls mimic the Pantheon design, and sports arenas continue to be built like the Colosseum, its elliptical shape and seating levels have yet to be rivaled by a superior design.

Near the Pantheon is the Trevi Fountain, the city's largest fountain. It is the endpoint of the Acqua Vergine, an ancient aqueduct that brought clean water into Rome.

There is a coin throwing tradition popular with visitors to the fountain. Legend has it that good luck is bestowed upon the person who throws a coin with their right hand over their right shoulder into the fountain.

Whether you choose to believe the legend or not, getting the chance to experience Rome and all it has to offer can make anyone feel pretty lucky indeed!
